

Points of Interest

#1 Ebenezer Rock was found on Turkey Run. After digging it out it was too big to lift even with machinery and so the staff rolled it to the front of camp. It is named after the monument place by Israel in the book of Samuel.

#2 Lone Cedar Hill has several stories. First catch your breath as you look out over the Platte river valley. From Columbus to North Bend you can see for miles. Because of this grand view it is likely a native American burial ground. A local grave witcher visited this site and identified 23 bodies that may be buried here. The large depression is said to be from an inert bomb dropped as part of training in WWII.

#3 Inspiration Point is the highest point on camp at 1,563 feet above sea level.

Valley Walk and Twin trails are the only flat trails on camp.

Hanson Hike is named after Ola Hanson, a Baptist missionary to Burma.

Walnut Way, on the east end of the trail you will pass through a concentration of walnut trees

Homesteaders Trail Along the south side of the trail we have found parts to a covered wagon likely from the early 1900's. Based on the grade and trees we believe this one of the trails homesteaders used to get to Linwood. Evidence of other wagon trails can be seen around our property.
