

Redmond Watershed Redmond, Washington

Centrally located in Redmond and offering easy access to the Tolt Pipeline and electrical Power line trails the Redmond Watershed is a great after work or weekend destination.

Parking is available off on NE 133rd as well as the main entrance on Novelty Hill Road where restrooms are also available.

The main trails in the park are the:

Trillium - Running the length of the park from north to south the Trillium trail is closed to bikes but open to equestrian use.

Siler's Mill - Hikers only please on this well maintained 1.3 mile trail that passes beaver ponds on its way through the forest.

Collin Creek - Connects the trails on the north end of the park.

Loop hikes of any length and variety are available to hikers and horseback riders.

Mountain bikes are somewhat more limited within the park but the connections to the Pipeline and Power line trails offer miles upon miles of riding opportunities.

Dogs not allowed on these trails.

Dashed Trails = Equestrian Friendly